Alliance
High School
Foundation

Winter 2010

Rockhill Elementary School opened in fall of 1956. That put me in the third grade. Before that, the neighborhood went to Parkway Elementary. This required all the kids on the south side of State Street to cross the busiest street in town to get to school. We lived at the corner of Mill Street and Rockhill Avenue. When the new school was completed, all the kids from the west side of Union Ave and south of State Street, through the Hillcrest area, started going to Rockhill.

Mr. William Hunter was principal the first year and Mr Wollam, who went on to be superintendent, followed the next year. Later there was Mr. Green, Mr. Long, ... (and many more). I remember Mrs. Rankin was a fifth grade teacher, Mrs. Weimer, Mrs. Leyda taught a split 4th/5th grade class, Mrs. Recchi, and Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. Ryks and Mrs. Ball were office secretaries.

I remember singing "MOTHER" for a school play (you know 'M' is for the many things...), my part was the "voice of the radio." We also did a big Hawaiian production, 'The Sugar Cane Festival,' in which I was a sugar cane beetle. Mrs Takenaka was an exchange teacher from Hawaii. That would have been the sixth grade, 1959, the year Hawaii became a state. We learned a lot about Hawaii that year, including how to play the ukulele, make leis and do the hula; not a great talent for a guy but the girls looked good doing the dances. We even had 'poi' shipped in for the performance-it tasted like wallpaper paste.

Alliance Graduate Writes Children's Book

Jane Morris Udovic '64 at a recent 'book signing'

As a young girl, Jane Morris loved poetry. She loved to read it and she loved to write it.

Every family occasion was marked by a poem she created, but who ever imagined poetry as a career path, especially in 1964, when she graduated from Alliance High School? She eventually joined the long line of family members in the legal profession, but throughout her life, creative writing was more than a hobby.

She joined writers groups, attended conferences, and studied to refine her storytelling skills, especially as her interest centered on children's literature.

Writing, it turned out, was a lot more difficult than the study of law. She had her share of "rejection letters," but kept working. Jane has recently published "Aunt Matilda's Almost Boring Party," a picture book for four to eight year olds. The delightful story is told in rhyme and illustrated with whimsical pictures by Jane's talented brother-in-law, David Udovic.

The book had been warmly received by reviewers, and has been added to the Alliance Room at the Rodman Library where reading copies are available for loan. The book may be purchased through Amazon.com and BarnesandNoble.com.

Jane is working on more children's books and lives in Washington D.C. with her husband and son. A

The school was basically one long wing with the lower elementary on the north side and the upper classes on the south side. The north side rooms had individual doors to the playground. This made fire drills easy and getting to recess a snap. We had an operating cafeteria where hot food was prepared daily. Parkway did not have a cafeteria! Rockhill was designed with great gym and a properly lighted stage for plays and musicals. In the early years of the Carnation City Players, several productions were staged at the school, including the musicals, Showboat, The Bells are Ringing, You're a Good Man Charlie Brown and Brigadoon.

Before I left Rockhill we had moved to Belleflower Avenue. It was easy to get home, I only had to walk about two blocks from the east side of school to my house. It was a straight shot across that little connecting street to Ridgewood, then cutting through Mr. Weaver's yard, right into my backyard.

It was fun to have my school close to where I lived and because there was no development south of the school it was a great place to explore that swampy area. Those were great times for a grade school boy who would use his imagination to become all sorts of characters in the swamp.

Dan Gard, Rockhill School '60, AHS '66

Editor's Note:

Shirley Weimer provides us with a list of teachers for Rockhill's first year, the fall of 1956: Kindergarten, Miss Neitz, First grade, Miss Gergel and Miss McLaughlin (maybe a split 1st and 2nd), Second Miss Mckenzie, Third, Mrs Nash, Fourth Mrs. Recchi and Mrs. Weimer, Fifth Mrs. Patterson and Sixth Mr. Mallernee.

Mrs. Weimer went on to reminisce that in September 1956, with the new school scheduled to begin classes the next day, the superintendent, Mr. Hammond, worked into the night helping unload trucks and placing furniture in classrooms. There was mud all around the school from construction and the playground was not complete. Teachers had their students in the classroom all day and while workers attached chalk and bulletin boards to the walls with power tools, the lessons continued. Just the month before, Shirley had married George and Mrs. Recchi's wedding ceremony had been on the same day.

Ruth Rankin '40-Ja joined the Rockhill teaching staff in 1960. She related that she has now been retired for more than thirty years, but her students still seek her out, sometimes just to introduce their grandchildren to her. A

Classes make gifts to AHS Foundation

The classes of Mary Ann Day '53, John Benincasa '44 and Jane Hollaway Johanson '49 recently made a contribution to the AHS Foundation Scholarship fund.

The graduating classes of 1944, 1949, 1950 and 1953 recently shared parts, or all, of their treasury with the AHS Foundation scholarship fund. These long established classes have met to rekindle high school relationship and memories for 55-plus years. We are extremely grateful for the gifts and the support that the reunion committees and classmates have given the AHS Foundation over the years. The newsletter staff is suggesting that the classes that no longer hold reunions should consider an annual get together of all graduation classes (an "All Class Reunion"). If you have an interest in participating in such an event, please let us know.

Thanks to the classes of 1944, 1949, 1950 and 1953 for your generous gifts to the scholarship fund. A

Alumni revisited

1930-1939

Nunzio Coco '33 sent his "thanks" for sending the newsletters and included the following note about Franklin School.

"The Franklin School picture in your fall 2009 newsletter brought back fond memories. This was the school that I, my four brothers and four sisters attended. I was the oldest child and began first grade on September 3, 1921 at seven years of age. We lived on North Liberty Street, approximately a mile from the school. We walked home for lunch. At recess we had fun on the playground with softball games. Our teachers were great. Mrs McAuley (geography), Mrs Shreve (music), Mrs Dalzell (arithmetic), who always reminded us to have clean fingernails. Mr Saffell was our principal who was always firm and fair. I enjoyed the times we had 'open house' when we would bring our parents to view our work in the classroom.

The school bell tower in the picture brought back a Halloween night memory, when several eighth graders "picked up" a bunch of backyard clotheslines, tied them together into one long line, attached it to the bell rope, and rang the bell from half a block away, as if ringing on its own. Summertime was a fun and carefree time. The playground was a popular meeting place for pickup softball games.

Thank you for bringing back such wonderful memories for this 95 year old 'young' man. I am in fairly good health, play golf two times a week, and try to stay active. I recently renewed my driver's license, and now I have a license that is valid until I am 100. Here's hoping it expires before I do."

Thanks To Gary Wilson New Computer will help

When Gary Wilson heard that his classmate, Sandy Good was using an old cobbled together computer to keep records for the foundation and for the very active class of 58, he immediately threw her a lifesaver, in the guise of a new computer, one untouched by the able but sometimes MIA hands of younger members of her immediate family. (She was amazed that every component of the computer was made by the same company.) "The whole operation would go up in smoke without Sandy", he said. "There is a limit to volunteerism, and she needs the right equipment to manage all of the information flow. It's a lot of responsibility and practically a full time job."

AHSF president Sarah Brown responded for all of us when she said "For Gary to extend his generosity beyond the scholarship to Duke University he offers every year is above and beyond. We can't thank him enough."

Peach Scholarship Update

A matching Gift from S.C. Johnson Wax Company was received to increase the Margaret Dunn Peach memorial scholarship fund to $24,000.00.

Clifford '58 and Mary Ann Peach established this scholarship fund in 2008, in memory of his mother, Margaret Dunn Peach '26.

After a 30 year career with the Johnson family of companies, mostly in Wisconsin, the Peach's currently reside in Tennessee. They continue to keep the education needs of Alliance High graduates at the forefront of their thinking and giving.

In May of '09, Tim Wilhelm was the first recipient of a Margaret Dunn Peach Memorial Scholarship. Tim is currently attending Baldwin Wallace College.

AHS Foundation Budgets $72,000 for 2010 Scholarships

The Board of Trustees of the AHS Foundation has voted to continue scholarships to be awarded to the Class of 2010, at the same level as last year.

Despite difficult financial times and lower interest and dividends, donations and memorial gifts were higher than anticipated and overall, the Foundation has been able to maintain the scholarship level.

Foundation President, Sarah Morris Brown '61, noted that rising educational costs, coupled with reductions in grants and aid funds at nearly every college and university, have increased the difficulty for families to finance this major expense. The trustees voted to award 19 scholarships this year and to maintain the $200 award to each student in the academic top ten percent of the graduating class. The total value of these scholarship awards is $72,000.

Scholarship applications are available at the high school guidance office.

AHS Chronicles

There was an enthusiastic response to our notice in the last newsletter on our revolving collection of Chronicles. We would like to thank those of you who sent us copies no longer in use. We've recycled over a dozen since then to grateful classmates and now maintain a waiting list.

Some alumni have picked up Chronicles at library sales and book fairs to add to the collection, and we appreciate you thinking of us.

We wish we could fill every request, but our supply is limited and for this reason we must limit this practice to dues paying members and donors to the AHS Foundation. For information for specific years or details on the policy, please contact us at ahsalum@acs.sparcc.org or phone 330-821-2100.

Dues are important;
Donations are very much appreciated

Dues and donations are very important parts of the financial growth of the Foundation.

Membership in the AHS Foundation is open to AHS graduates and to any person or organization interested in encouraging the further education of AHS graduates. Dues are $20.00 per year and should be sent to:
